

Privacy Policy

United Asiapac Energy Berhad ("the Company", "we", "us" or "our") is committed to the protection the privacy and security of your personal data. We regard the lawful and proper handling of personal data as fundamental to maintaining the confidence of the individuals with whom we deal, and we are dedicated to ensuring compliance with our obligations, and safeguarding the rights afforded to you, in relation to any personal data collected, used, processed or otherwise dealt with in the course of our business.

This Privacy Policy ("Policy") describes the manner the Company collects, uses, store, discloses and otherwise processes personal data ("Personal Data") in accordance with the Personal Data Protection Act 2010 ("PDPA"), and any regulations, guidelines or amendments issued thereunder from time to time. By accessing or using our website ("Website") or any services made available thereon ("Services"), you acknowledge that you have read and understood this Policy, and you consent to the collection, use and disclosure of your Personal Data in the manner described herein.

Defining personal data

For the purposes of this Policy, "Personal Data" shall have the meaning ascribed to it under the PDPA, being any in respect of commercial transactions which relates directly or indirectly to an individual, who is identified or identifiable from that information, or from that and other information in the possession of the data user, including any sensitive personal data and expression of opinion about the individual.

In order to provide you with our Services and to enhance your experience, we may, from time to time, request that you furnish us with certain Personal Data, which may include, without limitation, your name, contact number, mailing address, email address and such other information as may reasonably be required. Such Personal Data shall be collected, used and processed solely for the purpose of identifying, verifying and communicating with you, and for such other purposes as set out in this Policy.

Manner of Collection of Personal Data

We may collect and receive your Personal Data through the following means:

- (a) directly from you, in the course of your interaction, correspondence or transaction with us;
- (b) from your duly authorised representative(s), being any person(s) whom you have authorised, or who has/have been validly verified as being you or your authorised representative pursuant to our internal verification procedures;
- (c) from third parties, including but not limited to company search platforms and relevant registries; and
- (d) from such other sources as you may have consented to the disclosure of your Personal Data, or as may otherwise be permitted or required by law.

Purpose of Collection and Use of Personal Data

Your Personal Data, whether collected directly from you or from any of the third parties referred to in this Policy, may be collected, used and processed by us for one or more of the following purposes:

- (a) to prepare, execute and give effect to any agreement(s) entered into between you, us and/or other relevant parties;
- (b) to give effect to and complete any transaction(s) undertaken or to be undertaken by you;
- (c) to conduct customer due diligence, and to detect, prevent and investigate fraud or other unlawful activity;
- (d) to disclose to third parties engaged by us for the purpose of giving effect to a transaction, provided always that any Personal Data so disclosed shall be used strictly for the purpose of assisting us in connection with such transaction (for example, the disclosure of your particulars to our appointed company secretary for the purpose of processing the issuance of shares); and
- (e) for any other purpose as may be required or permitted under any applicable law, regulation, guideline, directive or order issued by any relevant regulatory or governmental authority.

Disclosure of Personal Data

In connection with the transactions undertaken by you and the management and/or operation thereof, we may be required or find it necessary to disclose your Personal Data to the following categories of third parties:

- (a) law enforcement agencies;
- (b) government authorities and relevant regulatory bodies;
- (c) companies or organisations, including our appointed data processors, engaged to assist us in processing and/or otherwise giving effect to the relevant transaction(s);
- (d) our business associates and such other parties for purposes that are related to, or ancillary to, the purposes for which your Personal Data was collected and is used, as set out in this Policy; and
- (e) any other party in respect of whom you have given your express or implied consent for such disclosure, subject always to the requirements of the PDPA and any other applicable law.

We wish to assure you that any disclosure of your Personal Data to the third parties referred to above shall be made strictly in accordance with the Disclosure Principle under the PDPA, and such third parties shall be under a duty to protect your Personal Data to a standard comparable to that required of us under this Policy.

Your Rights Under the PDPA

Subject to the provisions of the PDPA, you have the right to:

- (a) request access to the Personal Data we hold about you, to verify that it is being processed in accordance with this Policy and the PDPA;
- (b) request correction of any Personal Data held about you that is incomplete, inaccurate, misleading or not up-to-date;
- (c) withdraw your consent, at any time, to our processing of your Personal Data where such processing is based on consent, without affecting the lawfulness of any processing carried out prior to such withdrawal; and
- (d) request that we cease processing, or limit the processing of, your Personal Data in the circumstances permitted under the PDPA.

To exercise any of the above rights, please contact us. We will respond to your request within the timeframe prescribed under the PDPA.

Retention of Personal Data

We retain your Personal Data only for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes for which it was collected, including to meet legal, regulatory or operational requirements applicable to our business. Where retention is no longer necessary, your Personal Data will be securely destroyed or permanently deleted. We conduct periodic reviews of Personal Data held to assess continued relevance and determine if disposal is required.

Security of Personal Data

We implement reasonable technical and organisational measures to protect your Personal Data against loss, misuse, unauthorised access, modification or disclosure. These measures include restricting access on a need-to-know basis, maintaining access records, enforcing confidentiality obligations on employees, conducting periodic staff training, and applying data encryption where appropriate. The use of removable storage devices or cloud services to transfer or store Personal Data requires prior written approval from management.

We are not liable for unauthorised access to or use of your Personal Data by third parties arising from circumstances beyond our reasonable control.

Amendments to This Privacy Policy

We reserve the right to amend or update this Policy from time to time to reflect changes in our practices or applicable law, including the PDPA. Any such amendments shall take effect immediately upon being posted on this page, and shall apply to all Personal Data held by us, whether collected before or after the date of such amendment. We encourage you to review this Policy periodically to stay informed of any changes.
